CARETAKER KILLS SELF WITH AUTO GAS--JURY VERDICT

Allen Thomas Takes Own Life at Sand Lake—Ill Health the Cause

Despondency over ill health is believed to have caused Allen Thomas, caretaker of the T. N. Donnelley estate at Sand Lake, to commit suicide Thursday by inhaling monoxide gas. Thomas, who obtained his job as caretaker only ten days before his death, was said to be getting along nicely with his new work. He had been in poor health for six years and only recently was discharged from a sanitarium in Oak Forest. His body was found at 6:30 p. m. when Mrs. Donnelley saw him slumped in an automobile in the garage. He had been dead for five hours, according to Dr. W. W. Warriner of Antioch who was called to the scene. The Lake Villa fire department squad was called also, but there was no hope of reviving the man. A 20 foot length of garden hose had been attached to the exhaust on the car owned by Thomas and was swung around through the window of the car wher the body was found. The body was removed to Strang's funeral home in Antioch. The jury at the inquest conducted by Deputy Coroner Maurice tertained at a six-thirty dinner at the Penney returned a verdict holding that Thomas had come to his death by carbon monoxide with suicidal intent. Beside the wife who lives in Lake Villa, he is survived by a brother and sister in England, also an uncle and cousin, Edward and Fred Bartlett of

An Authority on the Courts Our courts are the balance-wheel of our whole constitutional system; and ours is the only constitutional system so balanced and controlled. Other constitutional systems lack complete poise and certainty of operation because they lack the support and interpretation of authoritative, undisputable courts of law. It is clear beyond all need of exposition that for the definite maintenance of constitutional understandings it is indispensable, alike for the preservation of the liberty of the individual and for the preservation of the integrity of the powers of the government, that there should be some non-political forum in which those understandings can be impartially debated and determined. That forum our courts supply. There the individual may assert his rights; there the government must accept definition of its authority. There the individual may challenge the legality of governmental action and have it judged by the test of fundamental principles, and that test the government must abide; There the government can check the too aggressive self-assertion of the individual and establish its power upon lines which all can comprehend and heed.

The constitutional powers of the courts constitute the ultimate safeguard alike of individual privilege and of governmental prerogative. It is in this sense that our judiciary is the balance-wheel of our entire system; it is meant to maintain that nice adjustment between individual rights and governmental powers which constitues political liberty.

-President Woodrow Wilson in "Constitutional Government in the United States." * * * * *

Marks of Past Illness

Shown by Hair and Nails Signs of past illness often remain long after the illness has ended. These are to be found where the circulation is poorest, viz., in the hair and the nails, says a writer in Pearson's London Weekly.

After a severe illness, you will often find that a ridge appears running across the nail and growing with it, advancing towards the free end as the nail gets longer. This is due to the fact that the illness has absorbed a good deal of the patient's strength and the circulation, in consequence, has not been sufficient to

As soon as the nails begin again to get proper nourishment they quickly regain their healthy look.

Ben Franklin's Magazine Benjamin Franklin in 1740 planned to issue a general magazine and outlined his project to John Webbe, an attorney, who was to be the editor. Webbe revealed the plan to Andrew Bradford, a printer, who proposed to issue a magazine in opposition to Franklin's. Lion Fears Human Beings

The lion is not naturally aggressive. On the contrary he fears human beings instinctively. A lion's first thought is to escape when he comes in contact with man, according to a game hunter in London Answers Magazine. He only attacks when driven to it as a last resource in self-defense, or when a lioness is accompanied by cubs. Sometimes, too, a lion may become a man-eater through old age, toothlessness, and lack of game to kill. But contact with mankind is avoided by normal lions, unless, as sometimes happens, they are moved by curiosity.

LOUIS IS SECOND EVENING CAPES OF NEGRO TO WEAR Paris Designers Applauded for HEAVYWEIGHT CROWN

(By Raoul George)

Joe Louis' meteoric rise to boxing fame reached a thrilling climax Tuesday night at Chicago's Comiskey Park when the Shufflin' Brown Bomber knocked out Champion Jimmy Braddock in the eighth round of their scheduled 15 round title tilt. A series the head to protect one's coiffure scheduled 15 round title tilt. A series of deadly rights and savage left; from Louis' dynamic fists wrested the two-year old heavyweight crown from the head of the aggressive, loyal, and determined Braddock and placed it squarely on the head of the 1934 Chisquarely on the head to protect one's coiffure is extremely graceful and beautiful. Allendale Graduates 23 in Colorful Ceremonies

by Raoul George

Lake Villa, Ill. In Allendale's cozy little chapel 23 young men received their diplomas last Saturday. This contingent represented the Class of 1937 and it completed the first milestone in the lives of these graduates towards higher education and business

The commencement program for Allendale's forty-first graduating class opened colorfully before an estimated throng of 125 parents and friends in the Myers gymnasium. Mr. Thompson opened the exercises with a snort introductory talk and welcome greeting extension to the visitors. Immediately followed the Salutatory address by Frank Turner and the Valedictory oration by Gerald Larson. The presentation of merit awards for faithful services throughout the community and recognition of outstanding athletes was included in the gymnasium program. Mr. Lewis E. Myers, Allendale's president of the Allendale Association, delivered a short but inspiring address to the departing young Succeeding a brief intermission, a field drill was staged on the athletic field. This phase of the afternoon's ceremonies drew a hearty round of applause from the crowd. The throng then milled toward the Marian Farwell Memorial Chapel where hundreds upon hundreds of boys have been bade a parting word of love and friendship by Allendale's executives. With ac-commodations for only 110 people many were forced to wait outside while the Class of '37 made its last parting bow. While the sun was setting majestically behind a maze of threatening clouds, Allendale's new graduates filed out serenely-apparently intent to conquer new worlds and to make their impressions on forthcoming noteworthy achievements.

This Butter Grows

Butter from a tree sounds ridiculous, but there is such a commodity. The tree from which it is obtained is the butter tree of West Africa. The produce is Shea butter, a finer product than the best animal butter, says London Answers Magazine.

In South America, Nature goes one better, for the "milk tree" supplies the natives of Cordillera with a white liquid closely resembling cow's milk. When stored in bowls it thickens, and the top, when skimmed, tastes like good cream. The milk is fed to children and used in tea. Curiously enough, the tree is found only in barren areas and can be "milked" only during periods when little else will grow. The "milk" is obtained by puncturing the trunk and catching the sap as it slowly oozes out.

The hood on capes is a new feature that will be seen much during the next months. The capes are varied in pattern and length, some being of elaborate and very dressy for warmth, while others are of the fabric type laces, some in wool lace, and these make highly fashionable wraps that really give warmth on cool spring evenings.

gether and the effect is not only striking but it is right in line with fashion's decree for this summer. Dark linens, navy, brown or black are particularly good style for suits and sports frocks. There is a so-phisticated, or shall we say childish simplicity, about the black linen resort dress which Gertrude Niesen, film star, wears in this picture, which is most fetching. White appliques, bound with red, and red bone buttons give that bright touch which fashion demands this season. A large red cartwheel hat trimmed in white grosgrain completes this charming costume.

White Daisies on Black

Make an Effective Gown Rough black crepe printed in big white daisies is used for an effective spring gown that has a high front bodice and is suspended by a slender halter which leaves the back and shoulders bare.

The gown, which is beltless, has a skirt that is cut circular to add fullness to the sheath-like dress. Two flat flounces are applied to the back of the skirt—one at the hips and one at the knees. A fluted ruching of black tulle edges these flounces and likewise makes an edging of the hem of the skirt.

This lovely lace gown has a matching jacket, which it should have according to all the laws of fashion. The idea of topping each dress with a related cape or jacket runs throughout the entire style program until now it has become a widespread accepted fact. SEPARATE EOLERO IN LACE IS SMART

By CHERIE NICHOLAS One of the many reasons for the great popularity of the becoming bolero is its ability to dress up costume, or to vary it for you. You have only to slip one on over a simple crepe dress to achieve the effect that is especially attractive this year. Boleros are particularly prominent in starched cotton lace. in pastel shades and white. Several of these, in different colors, will enable you to get different effects with a single frock.

The simple, brief bolero would probably be most practical, for the lace pattern gives a dressy effect in itself, and the tailored pattern of the bolero makes it adaptable to all types of costumes. One very attractive design has short puff sleeves, and wide revers, with the short jacket slightly flared. If you can sew at all, it is the easiest thing to make, of little more than a yard of lace. Such a bolero shows off to best advantage over a dress that is fairly simple, whether it be an afternoon frock, or a gown for eve-

Allan Thomas, who was caretaker at the Donnelly home at Sand I.ake, committed suicide by inhaling gas from a running motor in the garage at the Donnelly place while in a fit of despondency last Thursday. He had been in poor health for some time but his friends thought that he had fully recovered. The body was found by Mrs. Donnelly and upon examination, it was decided that he had been dead for some time. Besides his wife who lives here, he is survived by a sister and a brother in England, also an uncle and cousin, Mr. Edward and Fred Bartlett of this place. The annual reunion of the Kapple family was held Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hazel Dibble at Petite Lakke and in spite of the rain which made it necessary to alter some of th eplans, a splendid time was spent by the sixty or more people present. Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Pickering of Chicago wede in charge of the arrangements, including the program during the afternoon. Mr. Pickering has spent much time in tracing the history of the Kapple family back for several generations and his listeners found it interesting. Fritz and Al Boehm furnished music and Mrs. Paul Avery who was unable to be present sent an original poem for the group. All were descendants of Albert and Corena Kapple who took up land from the government in 1840, just east of the present village of Grayslake, and a part of this land is still occupied by their descenants. The Sylvan House, on the north shore of Channel Lake and Lake Catherine, opened for the regular summer season. The Sylvan has been placed in the best of shape for the entertainment of guests, and will, no doubt, receive its old friends and many who have not before tasted the hospitality of Messrs. Gifford and Snyder. The same orchestra that delighted the guests last year has been re-engaged, and will give its usual Saturday evening entertainments throughout the season. Most every sport is provided at the Sylvan, and guests are assured a royal welcome, and courteous treatment at all times.

The Lyman House, under the management of E. Carnduff, with John Moffat in charge as landlord, of Chicago, is winning new friends every day. Everything is conducted in a thorough and painstaking manner, calculated to make permanent patrons of all who once give the house a trial. The house is beautifully situated on Rev. Gold Most Malleable Gold is the most malleable of all metals and the minimum thickness to which it can be beaten with patience and skill is not known for certain. A single grain of gold has been beaten into a leaf having an area of seventy-five square inches. Commercial goldleaf ranges in thickness from 200,000 to 250,000 leaves to the inch.

Settlers Protected Forests The first settlers in America were wiser than many of their descendants, for they recognized the value of forests, passed laws to protect them. Special permission had to be gained to cut trees in Plymouth colony: William Penn demanded that one acre of forest remain untouched for every five cut.

Chamols Leather From Sheepskin There is no chamois in chamois leather. It is made from the flesh side of sheepskin.
